Morehead, Kentucky
May 28-31, 2019

The UK RPLP Medical School Admissions Boot Camp will provide college and university students interested in attending medical school:

- An opportunity to experience the medical school admissions process.
- Actual medical school application review and completion.
- Mock interviews with medical school admissions committee members and current medical school students.
- Hands-on clinical simulations.
- Resources and financial aid available to rural applicants.

This program is provided free of charge to those applicants who meet all admissions criteria and are accepted.

Funding for the RPLP Admissions Boot Camp is provided by the University of Kentucky College of Medicine's Office of the Dean. You will be provided housing, meals, supplies, and a travel stipend if you live more than 30 miles from Morehead.
